AWARDS OFFERED 4-H'ERS WHO IMPROVE HEALTH

"Improving Family and Community Living," the 1956 4-H theme, is being put into action by 750,000 club members taking part in the national 4-H health program.

State 4-H officials at VPI, who conduct the program in Virginia through county Extension agents, say members are improving individual, family, and community health.

Although the health project in Virginia is relatively new, 16,400 members received training last year in health, nursing, and first aid. Club Congress in Chicago; and six national winners will receive $300 college scholarships.

Certificates will be presented to each of two local clubs in a county conducting a health program worthy of a blue award rating. A maximum of 10 certificates are provided for the clubs reporting the most outstanding programs in the state.

Health activities carried on by 4-H'ers include physical and dental check-ups, studies of home and community health and sanitation needs; practice of basic first-aid and emergency procedures; the proper health habits, and participation in community health programs.

DEFEATS HIMSELF

Hannibal, Mo.- Robert Brown defeated himself in his bid for election as alderman. Brown remembered too late to register. He had to be a registered voter before he could become a candidate for any office.

No other truck can offer you as much as a new 1956 GMC

LOOK AT the facts—no matter what kind of truck you need.

GMC's new light-duty power plants have as much as 16.2% greater displacement than the nearest competition. H.P.'s been upped as much as 20%. V8's are the latest in short-stroke design.

In the new half-tonners, a brand-new fast-ratio cruising axle gives you all the efficiencies of overdrive. And it's an option at a fraction of overdrive's usual price.

A new ride stabilizer gives Blue Chip light-duties remarkable new riding comfort. No need to fight the steering-wheel—even on the poorest roads.

All GMC's now have a 12-volt electrical system. Tubeless tires are standard equipment. And a new boulevard styling makes a GMC far and away the best advertisement you can run.

In short, new 1956 Blue Chip GMC's are just about as impressive a line as you've ever seen. Values are even more remarkable. Drop by and see for yourself!

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of my dear husband, Charlie E. Marshall, who died three years ago, April 15, 1953.

Oh, Charlie dear, with heart of gold,
With hair of silver hue;
It is best you do not know,
How much I'm missing you.

The beautiful things you did for me,
Live within my heart each day,
And keep you near and dear to me,
Though you have passed away.

—Sadly missed by wife, Elsie W. Marshall.

IN MEMORY

BALDWIN.- In loving memory of my father, Aurelious A. Baldwin, who departed this life nine years ago today, April 12.

Sad was the shock that day,
When the news came that you had gone,
Just when it seemed I needed you most,
Then, I felt that God's will was done.

Yet again I hope to meet you,
When the day of life is fled;
Then in Heaven with joy to greet you,
Where no farewell tear is shed.
—Sadly missed by: Daughter.

Thirty-one years ago, the following article appeared in the Confederate Veteran Magazine. This magazine carried so many interesting articles that we consider it a shame that it is no longer published. Anyone having back issues of it, would do us a real favor by passing them on to us. Judah P. Benjamin is one of the truly great men of the Confederacy, and his life story is fabulous and should be recorded for future generations. Here is the article:

"It was on the island of St. Thomas, August 6, 1811, that Judah Philip Benjamin first saw the light, while he was still a little boy when his parents came to the United States, settling at Charleston, S. C. The family was so poor that some of the children were sent to relatives at Fayetteville, N. C., and at the academy there Judah was known as a student. He entered Yale College in 1825 at the age of fourteen—but his poverty caused his withdrawal two years later. In 1828, he went to New Orleans, and there began his independent career as a tutor, later on taking up the study of law, which he finally chooses as a profession. In December, 1832, when but little more than twenty-one years of age, he was admitted to the bar, and shortly thereafter married Miss Natalie St. Martin, who had tutored in English while he had tutored in French. He entered politics in 1840, and was elected to the legislature. He was a member of the Louisiana constitutional conventions of 1844-45, in which he did good service. In 1846, Mr. Benjamin was forced to seek rest because of threatening consequent on having undertaken his physical powers, and he resigned his seat in the Senate. He was offered, but declined, the position of Governor of Louisiana, and the same year the United States Senate, which he took his seat on March 4, 1853. He was a forceful speaker and a strong debater, especially when Southern rights were under discussion, and became noted for his skill and ability in debate. He was reelected in 1858, and was one of the Southern Senators who withdrew from the Senate on account of secession, his speech of farewell being an eloquent effort of February 4, 1861.

Soon after that he went to Montgomery, Ala., the temporary capital of the Confederacy, and was appointed by President Davis appointed him Attorney General in his cabinet, his legal training and ability, as well as his capacity for work, fitting him for this position. Later he was given the portfolio of State, and so served until March, 1862, was made Secretary of State, and so served to the last parting with Mr. Davis, he followed the fortunes of the Confederacy, and from there, in ... made a voyage of six weeks to the Bahamas, and thence to Southampton, England, in June, 1865.

In England he had to begin life afresh law, making a success of his career thereafter was phenomenal. In 1872, six years after becoming his practice there, he was made Queen's Counsel, the highest attainment in great Britain.

At the age of sixty-five, in writing to a friend, he said he thought he had to work from ten in the morning to seven at night, was not excessive labor. When on the verge of seventy he was firm and elastic as he had ever been, and at seventy-two: 'I still keep up my full day's work.'

Mr. Benjamin kept actively at

YATES REPRESENTS 4TH DISTRICT ON COM.

E. Floyd Yates, of Powhatan, was elected to the Democratic State Central Committee, representing the Fourth District, during the committee's session in Richmond last week.

CANCER FUND DRIVE HEADED BY NORFLEET

With the publication of this short notice, the Appomattox Cancer Drive has begun. Cancer is one of the major killers today. However, thanks to the contributions in the past in support of the American Cancer Society, there are many alive today, living useful lives to the glory of Almighty God. Our Lord said, "He that giveth as much as a cup of cold water in my name" shall receive his reward. Money, the symbol of productive time and talents, is the gateway for many others to receive these benefits. Here is an opportunity to serve Christ as a member of His "body." Give a check, have a check-up that the redemptive love of Christ be shown forth in the healing hands of your doctors and nurses.

Cancer Drive solicitors of past years will be contacted and the local campaign will be over in the next ten days or two weeks.

—The Rev. Charles W. Norfleet, Jr., Chairman.

Mrs. Gregory Installed As Club President

Officers of the Appomattox Garden Club for the next two years were installed at the annual dinner meeting of the club in the high school cafeteria on Monday night at 6:30. The following officers were installed by Mrs. F. F. Carr, club parliamentarian, at the close of the meeting:

Mrs. K. C. Gregory, president; Mrs. Robert C. Hubbard, vice-president; Mrs. Martin Webb, secretary, and Miss Laura Motley, treasurer.

At the dinner meeting, at which the retiring president, Mrs. Chas. T. Moses Jr., presided, all of the retiring officers and the new officers were seated at the sead table and each was presented a corsage. The club voted to postpone its flower show until fall, since it had not had a fall show for several years. A contribution was made to Nature Camp, the project of the Virginia Federation of Garden Clubs.

The club constitution and by-laws have recently been revised to include honorary membership, and at this meeting three members were honored when the club conferred honorary membership of Mrs. Amy Glenn, Mrs. W. F. Gills and Mrs. W. B. Caldwell. All three of these were charter members of the club when it was organized in 1935, and Mrs. Glenn has continued her membership through the years. Mrs. Glenn and Mrs. Gills were the two who merit credit for the club having been organized.

Charter members who were present were recognized by the president, and Mrs. C. F. James, first president, was presented a corsage.

After the retiring president gave her annual report, she was presented with two boxwoods from the club for her untiring efforts and unselfish service during her term of office.

The awards chairman, Mrs. A. R. Harwood, Jr., presented Peace roses bushes to Mrs. R. C. Hubbard, who won the most points in the amateur arrangement class for the ... year; Mrs. Herman Schweizer for winning the most points in the novice arrangement class, and Mrs. F. F. Carr for having the most points in the horticultural section.

After the installation service, Mrs. Moses pinned the club president's pin on Mrs. Gregory, and handed her the gavel, which she humbly accepted and asked the support of all members as she began her term of office as president.

Deadly Charge

With the campaign coming up, it is interesting to recall that Martin Van Buren was defeated one time by a barage of charges that included one to the effect that he "took frequent baths." Furthermore, they proved it on him.

Abbitt Speaks On Civil Rights

Stony Creek, April 21.- Representative Watkins M. Abbitt (D-Va.) strongly assailed the Administration's civil rights program in a speech before the Stony Creek Women's Club here last night.

He lashed out at "middle-of-the-roadism" which he said is endangering America. This so - called philosophy he said, "is no philosophy at all but is rather the absence of a philosophy or an attempt to evade having a philosophy."

The Virginia Congressman in a sharp attack on the civil rights program presented to Congress accused the Attorney General whose agents would be running hither and thither in an endeavor to subvert the rights of the states . . and to compel the individual to kowtow to the policies of the party in power."

Abbitt assailed what he called an "arrogation" of power by the Federal Government and charged that the Supreme Court has set itself up as "the keeper of the conscience of the people . . determined that we shall operate on the theory and political philosophy of the nine men comprising the so-called Supreme Court of the United States."

The Judicial Branch, he said, "apparently feels that the Executive Branch and the Legislative Branch are not moving fast enough to take our rights away from us."

The Supreme Court decision on school segregation, he charged, is a "clear disregard" for legal precedent, and added that the recent court decision on sedition is evidence "that the members of the Court have no regard for the clear language written into the law and passed by the Congress."

This is a gradual movement toward Federal control of all activities, Abbitt charged, and in this connection he attacked the tendency of government leaders to look at issues on a middle-of-the-road basis. He said that bartering of ideas is a dangerous business and asserted that in making concessions and compromises, principle is lost

Alfalfa Weevil Reported in Co.

County Agent Jim Smith reported this morning that in every alfalfa field examined in the county, there has been found damage from the alfalfa weevil. He urged growers to examine their fields to determine the presence of these insects. The larvae form causes the damage.

The alfalfa plant will show feeding on the top leaves and upon examination, the larvae may be seen, which is about 3-8ths of an inch long, green in color with a white stripe down the back and a black head. If the weevil is present in sufficient numbers, he may destroy the first cutting and delay growth of the second cutting. In severely infested fields, he can kill much of the stand.

Apply one-fourth pound of emulsifiable heptachlor per acre in 20 gallons of water and at 40 pounds of pressure. This material should be applied with a boom type sprayer. Treatment should begin when most of the plant tops start to show some feeding injury. Growers should attempt to control the insect with one spraying, as additional spraying may cause a residue to remain on the plants that would be injurious to animals.

After spraying, wait seven days before cutting.

County 4-H'ers Win In Contest

Sixteen Appomattox County 4-H Club members competed in the East Central District 4-H Contests last Thursday in Farmville. A total of 250 club members from sixteen counties competed for the district awards.

The Dairy Judging Team, which was composed of Ann and Louella Martin, Sammy Inge and Larry Torrence, was ineligible for district awards because of age, yet they were the top placing team in the contest.

Other club members competing were Carrie Jane Inge, Bread; Penny Abbitt and Sandra Pillow, Dairy Foods; Eloise and Madelyn Londrant, Bread; Virginia Rush, Food Preparation; June C. Thornhill, Dress Revue; and, Kinckle Martin, Tractor Operator's Contest.

Delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Dorothy Davidson, Mrs. Katie Doss and Mrs. Pauline DePew.
